PRESENTING THE NEW THORNDIKE

Modernized Hotel, With Its New Lobby, Is a Delight To the Eye

The weather-beaten marquee which has done duty in front of the Thorndike Hotel these many years, was removed by workmen Thursday and its successor will soon protect the main entrance to that historic hostelry's new quarters one door north. The change is made necessary to accommodate the new tenant of the block Fuller-Cobb, Inc., which will have for its front the old Thorndike lobby, and at the rear all of the first floor space extending to the eastern end of the building, a total distance of 180 feet, creating it is understood, the third longest department store in Maine. With the hotel removed to its new home, work is proceeding apace on the new department store, whose owners are naturally anxious to have it open at the earliest possible moment.

Meantime in the new quarters, created where the Postal Telegraph Co. had its office and where the Burgess optometrists held forth, there has been created a new hotel lobby of unbelievable loveliness, with a new plate glass front in full keeping. These windows will be protected by handsome, modern drapings and Venetian blinds.

A Johns Manville tile floor has been laid. The lower walls have a dark oak finish, while the upper walls are done in imitation of Japanese grass cloth, a particularly artistic piece of hand work which required four coatings, and is the first example of that type to be seen in Rockland. The ceiling and that in the vacated lobby, carries a sentimental interest in view of the fact that when it was installed in the former quarters by the late Charles H. Berry it was the first steel ceiling Rockland had known. And from the old lobby has come a piece of splendid workmanship, the oak desk, which was the handwork of the late Edward A. Knowlton, one of the most skillful cabinet makers in New England.

The historic lobby furniture has been refinished, and this will be supplemented in the lounge end of the lobby by handsome furniture done in maroon leather, together with deep chairs and divans with gaily covered linens. That famous painting of the Steamship City of Rockland which hung over the fireplace in the old lobby, admired and coveted by all who saw it, will be re-hung in the new lobby, and it is quite in prospect that the fireplace itself may be reproduced. Anyhow the bricks are being sawed. The old fireplace was built 30 years ago, according to contractor Everett L. Spear to whom the task was assigned. The lighting effects with fixtures unlike any other which have been established in this city, lend much charm to the new quarters. A soft, harmonizing effect was sought, and the quest has been thoroughly successful.

The picture of the Rockland was painted especially for The Thorndike by the well known Portland artist Darius Cobb.

A new stairway leads from the new lobby to the first floor, a new coat room has been installed, and the remodelled elevator, now occupying a recessed space, is approached from the side opposite to that formerly used. In an alcove off the lobby is the built-in telephone station. The new office switchboard is of the latest type.

Mrs. E. M. O'Neil, wife of the proprietor, is so proud of the two new dining rooms that entrance to them is taboo until both are ready for occupancy, which will probably be by the middle of the coming week. These rooms have separate entrances but are so partitioned that they can

ROCKLAND LIONS

Learn Things About Ethyl Gas—A. W. Gregory Is Nominated For President

The guest speaker at the Lions Club luncheon Wednesday was Philip M. Perry of Boston, representative of the Ethyl Gasoline Corporation, whose product is sold only to major gas companies. His remarks, especially interesting to the uninitiated, were illustrated with a large chart.

High compression was very lucidly explained. The trend of design autos in the last ten years radically changed because of increased efficiency of gas engine now weighs one-third less, same horse power, with increased fuel economy and acceleration. The gas is 15 times greater in power than black powder, exceeding TNT or dynamite, but by smaller ratio. The speaker demonstrated the difference between untreated and Ethyl gas with the engine of a Delco plant. When a knock is developed, speed and horse power are reduced, and heat increased; when switch to Ethyl is made the knock is eliminated, and speed and horse power increased and temperature lowered.

These officers were nominated: President, A. W. Gregory; first vice president, Alphonso F. Russell, Jr.; second vice president, Cleveland Sleeper, Jr.; third vice president, Edward W. Peaselee; secretary, Albert B. Elliot; treasurer, Bertram A. Gardner; lion tamer, Parker E. Worrey; tail twister, Marcus P. Chandler; directors for two years, Dana S. Newman and Allan J. Murray.

Howard Tierney, the new manager of the Newberry store, was admitted to membership.

On Rockland night at the district convention Marcus Chandler will be toastmaster and Congressman Moran will speak, and Parker E. Worrey will be song leader. L. E. McRae, Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., and William H. Glendinning, Jr., were appointed members of the golf committee, and Dr. Blake Annis, A. W. Gregory and Albert Elliot were appointed on the stunt committee.

Charles Blaisdell and Paul Seavey were guests.

The Lions ball team will play the Swifts next Tuesday night.

ing the Thorndike Hotel property from Mrs. Georgia Berry, Mr. McIntire remaining in Fitchburg to complete terms under which the American House had been leased, and Mr. O'Neil coming to take charge of The Thorndike, which had been closed for a number of months after the retirement of Wight & Derby. In the years that Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil have been managing The Thorndike there have come beneath its hospitable roof guests from every State in the Union, and many foreign countries, and to them has been extended every courtesy and every convenience that conditions permitted.

A new member of the staff, whose arrival is coincident with the opening of the new hotel quarters, is Irving I. Ross, who already fits into his new duties as day clerk as though born to that position. He is a native of Westfield, N. J., but has resided in Maine 20 years, being connected with the Eagle Hotel in Brunswick and the Elmwood Hotel in Waterville prior to going to the Augusta House, where he has been located the past five years. He is a member of the Augusta Elks Lodge and a 32d degree Mason, belonging to St. Omar Commandery in Waterville and Kora Temple, Mystic Shrine, in Lewiston. His genial bearing makes him a natural hotel man.

McGUFFIE PARDONED

Robert McGuffie, committed to the State Prison in April, 1934, to serve two to four years because of a shortage in his accounts while he was tax collector of Stonington, was pardoned Wednesday by Gov. Brann and the Executive Council. Testimony was offered that at McGuffie's trial there was no evidence he had taken the funds.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

WATERS

As a beam o'er the face of the waters may glow While the tide runs in darkness and coldness below: So the cheek may be tinged with a warm sunny smile, Though the cold heart to ruin runs darkly the while. One fatal remembrance, one sorrow that throws Its bleak shade alike o'er our joys and our woes, To which life nothing darker or brighter can bring, For which joy has no balm and affliction no sting—

Oh! this thought in the midst of enjoyment will stay, Like a dead leafless branch in the summer's bright ray, The beams of the warm sun play round it in vain, It may smile in its light, but it blooms not again.—Thomas Moore.

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Thou wilt keep in perfect peace,

Isaiah 26:3.

THE NEW FRENCH RECEIVER

The later form of telephone receiver that is gradually usurping the familiar implement that came to us with the original instalment of this busy auxiliary of social and business life, seems to be meeting with general favor. Its designation under the title "French" lends it a note of distinction, hinting as it does of trips abroad, and of Paris, the universal arbiter of fashion. It is the receiver associated with the phone through which the heroine of the movie notifies her lover that all is well; and with which the enterprising burglar, preliminary to burgling, arranges important details with his associates. Its universal employment by the screen has not been without effect upon observant audiences. You come to look upon the home receiver as awkward, too much equipped with tangle cord, out-dated in the march of time. In short, you mutter, hoisting up the sole Parisian word that you are acquainted with, it's detrop.

Whereupon you telephone the local office to install one of them immediately, and engage with the at first baffling details of handling it.

THE PICTURE AT LONG COVE

It is gratifying to note that the rivers and harbors bill that Congress is addressing to a group of Maine projects touches a number of points upon this immediate region of the coast in which, as is natural, our people are particularly concerned. In the connection the writer of these lines thinks of Long Cove as one of the most beautiful bits of water hereabouts to be encountered. Those of our readers who motor in that direction, observing as the short hill descends, the land-locked stretch of water at the full of the tide, are of one mind that there is no picture to excel it upon the New England coast.

WHY LONG COVE IS SO NAMED

In connection with the foregoing. If the writer may be indulged a personal reminiscence, let him relate that it was his privilege, some years ago, on the occasion of the first visit to this country by the English poet Alfred Noyes, to meet that distinguished writer at the Thorndike and accompany him to the summer home of friends in Tenant's Harbor. On arriving at this point in the road above noted, the tide being at its full, the poet burst into an exclamation of joy.

"What a beautiful spot it is!" he cried. "What place is it?"
"It's Long Cove," his companion replied; then added with a mild suggestion of what was meant to be facetious: "It was originally named for our New England poet, whom you know, but our modern local vernacular has changed it into 'Long Cove'."

The visitor looked again upon the picture. "Ah, really?" he cried; "how interesting!"

And unless this paragraph should by chance meet his eye, the poet will never know that his introduction to these regions was marked by a bit of what an Englishman would call spoofing—and for which the writer of this confession herewith offers his apology.

A SUMMER IN BRITISH WATERS

The sporting element, which in this connection will have wide manifestation, has noted with interest the arrival in British waters of the American yacht Yankee, with view to challenging the cream of British yachting, which will include the King's own Britannia, an ancient craft, and this in the midst of that august ruler's jubilee season, a daring proposal which the King himself the best of yachting sportsmen, will doubtless gladly welcome. What success may attend upon this invasion by the American challenger is impossible to forecast, but there should be a pretty manifestation of yachting achievements, rivaling in interest, if not exceeding, those many contests in which the British challenger has vainly sought to take home the long retained America's cup.

Supplementing these lines comes cable news that on Thursday the Yankee took on her first contestant, the English sloop Valheda, and in a stiff breeze went over the finish line more than a mile ahead, an excellent beginning in this daring invasion of foreign waters by the representative of the Eastern Yacht Club.

THE LEGION SPIRIT

Paul Smithwick of Damariscotta, a past commander of the Richard Wells Post, American Legion, has been ill at the Togus Veterans' Hospital three months, and lately he has begun to worry about how he was going to get all the work done at his farm home in Newcastle. So 25 members of the Post, headed by Commander Collis Merrill, paid the farm a surprise visit. They cut 14 cords of firewood, and planted four acres of potatoes, corn, beans, and other vegetables.

WELCOME BUDDIES

You are going to have a fine time when you come to the American Legion State Convention, June 16-19. If you doubt it just read what "Hec" Staples says about the show.

One of the most imposing lists of attractions ever offered to Legionnaires and Auxiliary members will be offered by the City of Rockland, Maine, during the 17th annual Department Convention of the American Legion at that city on June 16th to 19th. Many Legionnaires and their families are already planning to take a whole week of vacation at this time in order to spend several additional days enjoying the natural and scenic beauties of Rockland and vicinity.

With the constantly growing popularity of American Legion conventions and the increasing attendance of Auxiliary members and the Sons of the Legion, there is no question but what this 17th annual convention of the Department of Maine will be the biggest and most colorful ever held within the Pine Tree State.

Generously favored by mother Nature, Rockland possesses such rare charms of scenic grandeur that its vicinity has become the summer home of many of the wealthiest people in the land, who are able to live any place they choose . . . so they choose this place where nature has done its best to paint the prettiest picture on the world's canvas. Island-studded ocean and bays whose waters wash rugged, deeply indented rocky shores with occasional beaches, backed by a hinterland of mountains, lakes, and streams which offer an unending variety of scenic beauty, all combine to make this the most beautiful section of the coast of Maine.

Making use of such rare natural advantages, the Convention Committees of which Mr. Milton M. Griffin is general chairman, has arranged such outstanding features as these for the entertainment of the thousands who will flock to Rockland for this gala event:

By special permission of the Maine Central Railroad use of the luxurious and internationally famous Sam-O-Set Hotel, with its commanding view of Penobscot Bay and its wonderful golf course, for the accommodation of Legionnaires and other convention guests, will be headquarters for the 40 and 8 and the 8 and 40.

Use of all other hotels, available rooms in private houses, beach hotels, and cabins, so that there will be an abundance of housing accommodations for everybody. Registration for hotel rooms or other rooms must be through the housing committee as proprietors are accepting registrations only through this committee, of which Mr. Herbert R. Mullen is chairman, and located at the Legion headquarters, next to Strand Theatre, Main street.

The Convention Committees have the complete co-operation of the City Government, Chamber of Commerce, Service Clubs, Fraternal organizations, Patriotic bodies and Churches, in making Rockland the ideal host city for Legionnaires and their guests. And arrangements by Churches and societies to serve meals to supplement the facilities of restaurants and hotels so as to insure plenty of good food and quick service at convenient locations, and also the co-operation of the entire community in keeping prices for lodging and meals at an absolute minimum—even below normal.

There are large parking areas centrally located with capacity for thousands of cars.

Legionnaires may enjoy the deep sea fishing trips directed by experienced and competent seamen, also sailing trips on the Bay, visiting islands and points of interest.

The steamer trips, directed by Col. Basil H. Stinson, will visit Vinalhaven and other islands where the summer homes of Charles Dana Gibson, Lady Astor, the late Dwight Morrow, Col. Charles Lindbergh, and other notables are located.

Airplane trips by safe and expert pilots flying amphibian planes over land and sea are available.

Famous shore dinners and beach facilities at salt or fresh water for swimming or boating, and also two of the finest golf courses in the State are available for golfers.

Ball games, dances, boxing matches, midnight shows, etc., all of unusually high calibre, are at the option of Legionnaires.

There will be free transportation in official cars to any Legion activity, for all wearing official registration badges.

Large registration headquarters, centrally located on Main street, centralizing all committees in one place for your convenience has been established.

The Penobscot Bay Radio Club Station will send radio messages free to any part of the world.

The State Rifle Shoot on Sunday, June 16, at 9 A. M., under direction of Col. Charles Savage, will be the first Department rifle shoot held in Maine, and many suitable prizes awarded.

National Commander Frank N. Belgrano of California, and National President Mrs. Carlson of the Auxiliary, and other national figures will be the official guests of the Department of Maine.

Drum Corps competitions for both Legion and Auxiliary Drum Corps, with large prizes offered, under revised state rules, and judged by five Massachusetts judges and one from Maine, will be one of the outstanding features.

The biggest Legion Parade ever held in Maine, featuring approximately thirty Drum Corps and Bands, with thousands of Legionnaires, Auxiliary members, and Sons of the Legion participating, occupies the chief attraction at any Convention.

These and innumerable other features, many of which will be special favors to those who wear registration badges, will make the Convention at Rockland not only the biggest, but also one of the most memorable Department Conventions ever held in Maine.

Rockland extends a cordial welcome to all.

HECTOR G. STAPLES,

Publicity Chairman.

HATS OFF TO VINALHAVEN!

Hectic Game At Community Park Gives Clear Title To County Championship

Well, boys, it's all over. Vinalhaven High School has won another championship with nobody to offer an alibi and nobody to begrudge the wonder school with a continuation of its well earned success.

The game that turned the trick was played at Community Park Thursday ground on which Murgita scored. With two down and two on Thompson emulated the example of the immortal Mister Casey, and an exultant horde of Vinalhavenites hot-footed it to the pier.

It was the irony of fate that the winning runs should have been made in that fatal seventh, but that's part of baseball wherever played, and is not offered as an alibi.

Woodcock helped win his own game, not only by superb pitching, but with

No mistaking Thompson's earnestness afternoon when the Islanders crushed the hopes of the Limerick City lads with a 7 to 5 victory. The visitors knew they had been in a game for the result was not a certainty until Woodcock had fanned Thompson the last man up in the last inning. Had Thompson made a single the game would have gone into an extra inning, and the play-off which Rockland had so earnestly hoped for might have been necessary. Goodness knows that Thompson boy tried hard enough. Hit so hard at that last ball he threw his hat nearly to third base.

How Woodcock looked to some of our batters

The Maud Muller moral applies with special emphasis to Rockland's side of the game. It "might have been" a victory for the home team if Lord had not essayed that hit and run in the first inning, whereby Shields and T. Erickson pulled off an absurdly easy double play. There was nobody out at the time, the bases were loaded, and two men had already scored. It "might have been" in the seventh if Dondis had not made two wild heaves, but the writer has no stomach for criticising this fine lad, who has been one of the season's stars, and who is good enough to play short field for the local team.

Shields, the Vinalhaven pitcher, was plainly under a strain, and after he had walked three men in the fourth inning it was good-by on the Isle of Capri. Woodcock, who succeeded him, had lots more speed, and proceeded to send the Rockland batters back to the bench with a regularity which became both discouraging and monotonous to the followers of the Durrell machine. Vinalhaven people rejoicing over the result should not forget to bare their heads when young Woodcock passes.

This rebbed Karl of a double

That last inning was a heart-breaker for Rockland. Dondis had led off with a walk but Mister Baum nailed him at second on a fielder's choice. Murgita was advanced to second when a fielder's choice failed to work on Lord's grounder. Karl fanned (for the first time in the game) but Torfason got tied up with French's

ROCKVILLE

The pupils of the Rockville school will give an opera, "The Magic Dream" and recitations at the school, Tuesday, June 11, at 7 o'clock. The operetta has been coached by Mrs. Clark, music teacher. Candy will be on sale.

Billy Butler of Arlington, Mass., spent last weekend with his cousin, George Hall.

Jack Gowan and sister, Mrs. Ida Crowell, visited a few days last week with friends in Bath.

Dana A. Sherer has received word from his oldest son, Charles, who is in the employ of the United States Gypsum Co. and has been located at Buffalo, N. Y. with an extensive territory to cover as sales engineer, that he is to be transferred to the factory in Lisbon Falls. This property was acquired by the company last fall. Much new equipment has been installed and the prospect is for a busy mill making insulation and building board. Mr. Sherer will be in the operating department. It has been eight or ten years that he has been away and to come East, especially to his native State, is most gratifying to him.

The students of Camden and Rockport High Schools, not over 15, who competed for the best article on "The Spanish American War" sponsored by the Freeman Herick Camp and Auxiliary had supper with their sponsors Monday evening at the Camden American Legion hall. Miss Doris Hall, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vesper Hall, a Rockport High senior, won first prize of $4.

Share your NEWS and Double your PLEASURE

Has baby cut a tooth? Has daughter graduated with honors? Has junior been elected captain of his team? That's news! Uncles and aunts, grandparents, even family friends, who live too far away to share such joys in person, still want to hear about them.

Pick up your telephone and tell them. In the telling, we'll wager that you'll find your own pleasure doubled.

In such cases, a telephone call may be valueless from the dollars-and-cents angle, yet priceless for the lift it gives the spirit.

Night Rates Now Begin at 7 P. M.

To enable greater social use of the telephone is one reason for advancing the night rate period for toll calls to 7 o'clock (it formerly began at 8:30).

Night Rates apply only to station-to-station calls—that is, calls by number, or for "anyone". If you do not know the number, call "Information."

To show the low cost of toll calls, during the night rate period, the following typical rates are cited for a 3-minute station-to-station call after 7 P. M.

Down The Fairways

(By J. F.)

The arrival of June has brought out those recalcitrant fans who insist on hot weather in which to strut their stuff. The old guard is wont to call 'em sissies, probably because the timid ones don't become good partners for a couple of weeks.

Summer rules went into effect Monday. The greens and fairways are in excellent condition. Many out of town players remarked that the club is a good month ahead of all the courses in the State. Congratulations Messrs. Gilley and Sorrent.

"Soap" Rogers shot a 38 the first time he tried out his clubs this year. Any unbelievers may consult Emery, the Hoyle of stroke counting.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Adams of Springfield spent a week's vacation playing golf at the club last week. Both did extremely well and served notice that they would burn up the course during their next appearance later in the summer.

Mr. Cornell of Camden has purchased a new set of clubs and the fairways are ringing with the lusty clouts he gives the ball.

Summer is approaching! Louis Wardwell was down from Camden this week to sharpen up his putting. Pacing Ike Merrill.

President Gilley went into action Sunday. He garnered 37-38 for a scintillating 75, which took low net as well as low gross. Planagan (Artie) watch your step! A dark horse is thundering on your train.

Bill Glendenning is worried about his putting. It seems that he's never certain of a 30-footer.

Pro (to new caddie): Don't you ever watch a ball?

New Caddie: I watch 'em swell. My trouble seems to be in finding 'em. Join the Country Club and become eligible for the K.F.S. Society. Al Jones got in the wall by the fifth green and almost became the first charter member. He ambushed two snakes and would have bagged a third, but he muffed his explosion shot. What, no tees, Al?

Artie Planagan made a 73 last Saturday. He missed four three-foot putts. Ho hum!

Spring Chirps: Glendenning giving himself a five-minute fight talk before missing a three-footer. Emery outdriving Artie Planagan, proudly preening himself, and then taking a five to the latter's three . . .

Al Jones chipping one in from off the green and not even cracking a smile . . .

Mr. Buffum socking 'em straight down the fairway while his partner and opponents investigate conditions in the rough . . . Robinson slapping 'em to the green and confessing, he took the wrong iron . . . Artie Planagan working himself into a sweat tapping a cigarette . . . "Soap" Rogers hitting any stone wall, having his ball bounce back on the fairway and then muttering that the pellets don't go where you aim 'em . . . "Roge" Sorrent making a fine score and then complimenting Abraham Lincoln because the latter was left-handed, too, and a good man in a crisis . . . Gilley taking a rest Sunday afternoon in order to give his morning 75 a chance to pause and refresh itself . . . Wotton with a lonesome countenance Sunday morning because his playmate Howard was out of town.

SOMERVILLE

Several Rockport residents, including Mrs. C. A. Barbour, son Harry Turner and mother, Mrs. Whittier, were callers last Saturday on relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Tracy of Gardiner passed the weekend at F. A. Turner's and at their camp here. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Philbrick and granddaughter, Norma, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Tracy, Mrs. Brown and two daughters of Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Turner and children and Miss Marie Turner of Augusta were among the out-of-town visitors in this community Memorial Day.

Mrs. Fred A. Turner visited recently with her son, Fred L. Turner and family of Augusta.

Paul A. Leland of North Anson was a caller last Saturday on friends here.

AN ATHLETIC WIZARD

Here's Sam Sezak, the miracle man who coached the Rockland High School football team to such a glorious victory last fall. And now he's the whole cheese, having been made athletic director in charge of all sports. More power to him!

Park Theatre has a grand reopening next Monday, on which, and the following day will be presented the million dollar picture "Clive of India," featuring Ronald Colman and Loretta Young. See how six words from a woman changed the destiny of Asia. Wednesday and Thursday the feature offering will be the "Casino Murder Case" with Paul Lukas and Allison Skipworth. Philo Vance never tackled a harder job. Friday and Saturday, a good old Western. See how Buck Jones rides and fights his way into a city gal's heart. The title is "When a Man Sees Red."

The diaphone again belowed its call to the faithful Thursday night, an alarm from box 49 and with the added stimulus of a flame-lit northern sky how the faithful did turn out. Chief Havener and his boys found the huge barn of the old A. J. Bird store property on Front street a mass of solid flame. The big draughty building was tinder-dry and contained hay, chaff and quantities of shims and edgings which burned like gun powder. Cars and other materials stored in the main building, all connected, were removed but the firemen using four streams, confined the blaze to the building of origin and may be credited with an excellent stop. The property is owned at present by W. F. Tibbets and the damage is estimated at $1500, said to be covered by insurance. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin and an investigation is in progress.

The hearty laugh and cheerful voice of William G. Robinson rang through The Courier-Gazette office yesterday as he dropped in to chat with members of the staff whom he is perfectly correct in assuming to be his best friends. Mr. Robinson is a year past the three-score-year-and-ten mark, but has never forgotten how when he lived in Rockland he used to go smelting back of this office, and how when he had grown to manhood he used to cover first base for the Warren baseball team. His interest in sports has never waned nor has his loyalty to Rockland and Warren. Last fall he saw the Rockland High School football team win 20 to 0 in Gardiner (his present home) and nearly caused a riot by shouting for Sezak's boys. A recent physical examination showed him in perfect condition, and he still dons the gloves if anybody intimates he can knock his hat off. His home in Rockland was the Mallet building opposite the Congregational Church, now occupied by Nye's Garage, and at one time a Warren meeting house. Mr. Robinson is at the Narragansett Hotel over the weekend.

The paintings which have been done by the students of the FERA Art School, are on exhibition at the Public Library for a week. They form an interesting and creditable collection.

Knox County Legionnaires who are to be in the policing department during the Legion Convention are asked to be at Legion hall Sunday at 5 p. m. It will be an important meeting.

Everett Frohock, who is completing another year's work at Wheaton (Ill.) College, will have a trip in Connecticut and also go to Brown University to see his brother Wilbur receive his Ph. D. degree before returning home in about two weeks.

The committee in charge of the letter banquet at the Congregational vestry Wednesday comprised Mrs. J. H. Flanagan, chairman, Miss Alice Flanagan, Mrs. Walter C. Ladd, Mrs. Joseph Emery, Mrs. A. S. Peterson, Mrs. Crosby F. French, Mrs. Gladys Morgan, Mrs. Charles Merrill, Mrs. Joseph Blaisdell, Mrs. K. C. Rankin, Mrs. Maurice Ginn, Mrs. W. A. Glover, Mrs. Harold Karl, Mrs. Sam Sezak, Miss Marguerite deRochemont, and Miss Margaret Heller.

McLain School teachers had a supper party at Rockledge Inn Wednesday evening, those present being Miss Frances Hodgdon, Miss Hazelteen U. Watts, Mrs. Lucy Lowe, Miss Mabel Stover, Miss Jeannie McConchie, Mrs. Maude Comins, Miss Katherine Veazie, Miss Louise Dolliver, Mrs. Harriet Luffkin and Miss Kathleen Haskell, with Mrs. Elsa Constantine and Mrs. Eva Toner as special guests. Adjournment was made to the home of Mrs. Lowe with Miss Stover as assisting hostess provided entertainment of cards and sewing. Lunch was served.

The Ruth Mayhew Tent meeting Monday night featured the bountiful filling of a birthday basket for a shut-in member, Mrs. Irene Winslow, who has been a valued worker in the organization for many years, and who is also a charter member and past president. Mrs. Lizzie French was supper chairman. Capt. H. R. Huntley being a special guest at supper. The mystery went to Mrs. Josephine Lothrop. An expression of thanks was made to Mr. Blackington who donated tulips for use on Memorial Day for the service conducted by the Daughters, in which all patriotic bodies were represented by school girls carrying flowers given by the various organizations. They were escorted by flag bearers chosen from the Tent. Miss Annie Mullen read "The Starry Flag of Liberty." Mrs. Eliza Plummer was appointed to take charge of the dinner to be served on June 17 during the American Legion State convention. The next meeting will be July 1st.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Home for Aged Women took place Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. Lester Sherman. These officers were elected: President, Mrs. Sherman; vice presidents, Mrs. J. N. Southard and Mrs. Frank W. Fuller; secretary, Mrs. H. J. Keating; treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Norton; finance committee, Mrs. Joseph Emery, E. L. Brown, William D. Talbot, with E. J. Heller as advisor. Miss Ernestine Getchell who has been serving the Home as matron so efficiently for several years was granted a year's leave of absence for a much needed and well earned rest. As has been said many times in the past, Miss Getchell's service as matron cannot be too highly praised. An expression of appreciation is made to everyone who has contributed help to the Home the past year, great or small, for the interest shown by the citizens in the maintenance of the institution, and for the kindly spirit directed toward the women in the Home.

The name of Helenamie Mahoney was accidentally omitted from the list of girls' basketball players who were awarded sweaters at the athletic banquet Wednesday night. Miss Mahoney was captain and an all-State player.

An interested spectator at Thursday's game between Rockland High and Vinalhaven High was Victor Green, principal of Seaport High School. The result pleased him immensely as he is a former Vinalhaven boy. He was accompanied by Bert Angell, formerly of this city.

At the annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kate Brown these officers were elected: Mrs. Clara Emery, president; Miss Florence Hastings, secretary; Miss Ada Young, treasurer. Delegates elected to the County Convention, June 11, at Appleton, are: Mrs. Ida Simmons, Mrs. Jennie Wilson, Mrs. Castera Means, Miss Lena Miller, Mrs. Alice Brooks, Mrs. Bonney Whitehouse, Mrs. Elizabeth Williamson, Mrs. Fannie Sherer, Miss Mabel Oxtion, and Mrs. Josephine Grover; alternates, A. Young, Mrs. Lawrence, Miss McKnight, Mrs. Kate Brown, Mrs. Mabel Greene, Mrs. Priscilla Richardson, Mrs. Margaret Maxey, Mrs. Lettie Whittier, Amelia Johnson and Mrs. Margaret Hudson.

Members of the High School graduating class associated with the Methodist Church were guests of honor at circle supper Wednesday, five being present. The class motto, "A Life, Not a Living," was conspicuously displayed, formed of red letters on a white background. Tables were set up in the shape of an H, the graduates sitting at the "crossbar," and the parents, who were also special guests, sitting at the two ends. Decorations featured bouquets of white lilacs and red tulips and red candles. On the graduates' table was a huge angel cake made by Mrs. William Ellingwood, iced in white and decorated with red candles reading "R.H.S. 1935." Favos were also at the plates. Rev. C. E. Brooks, pastor of the church, talked briefly on the value of a firm foundation for the start in life, and Leroy Chatto, superintendent of the Sunday School, spoke of the importance of choosing the right companions for life success. Housekeepers were Mrs. H. V. Tweedie, chairman, Mrs. Ellingwood, Mrs. A. G. Dolliver, Mrs. Madeline Rogers, Mrs. L. N. Littlehale, Mrs. Gammon, Mrs. Pearl Studley, Mrs. Mary Annis, Mrs. Lucy Bucklin, Mrs. Minnie Rogers, Mrs. Ella Lurvey, Mrs. Frank Wheeler, and Miss Faith Lurvey.

A good sized Knox County delegation was in evidence at Belfast Opera House last night, drawn thither by the presentation of "The Bat," in which local and semi-professional talent gave a most creditable interpretation of the mystery play written by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood. Knox County members of last night's cast were Mrs. Doris Brewster of Camden, Mrs. Grace Rollins, Lloyd Daniels and Albert Dodge of Rockland, and Marshall Bradford of Thomaston. Tonight the play will be repeated by a practically new cast in which will appear Elena Batchelder Shute, Abbie Doak, Carolyn Haver Durham and Hillard Buzzell, Belfast; Fred Field, Camden; George Elmendorf and Carl Sawyer, Seaport; Wesley Patterson, Belfast; Franklin Pierce, Bucksport; and Marshall Bradford, Thomaston. A review of the play will appear in Tuesday's issue. Lincoln Colcord, Maine's widely known author, who is president of the Penobscot Bay Players, appeared before the footlights between acts with an expression of appreciation for those who have worked so hard to make their dramatic offerings a success, and outlined future ambitions.

WEST ROCKPORT

Mrs. Emma Leach entertained the Mission Circle Thursday afternoon. The Tuesday Club met this week with Mrs. Perley Merrifield. Next week's meeting will be with Mrs. Stewart Orbeton.

Mrs. Charles Maxey of Glen Cove is guest of her daughter, Mrs. Gladys Keller.

4-H Club Entertains

The Singing-Sewing 4-H Club held an entertainment and social May 31 at the Grange hall with a good attendance of parents and interested friends.

The program consisted of the regular business meeting to show how the club sessions are conducted. Mr. Wentworth, county agent, gave an informative talk on club work and its history in Knox and Lincoln Counties. This was followed by a play "Catching Club Cheer," which included an apron demonstration by Glencoe Collins. Other girls taking part were Hazel Nutt, Blanche Collins, Virginia Deane, Marilyn Cripps, Carolyn Andrews, Dorothy Keller, Barbara Waldron, Marion Taylor, the latter two of Glen Cove, and Marilyn Cripps of Simonton. Marilyn Cripps played an accordion solo, Virginia Deane and Barbara Waldron did tap dancing and the group sang club songs. The girls were attractive in their new uniforms.

The sewing exhibit on display showed that the amount and quality of the work accomplished was most creditable considering that the club was organized this year.

Home made candy, ice cream and soda were on sale and the net proceeds for the vining was $12 to be used to help pay for uniforms and to increase the treasury. The girls and their leader are grateful to the Rockport Boys' orchestra for furnishing music for dancing.

A rising vote of thanks was given Ellen Lunden for helping with the club banner and to the people in the community who had also assisted toward the success of the occasion. Mrs. Henry Keller is the club leader and as the program showed, has made excellent progress.

The Price of Liberty

We wonder, as well we may, at the great upset in the world's thinking in recent years. We find the very fundamentals which we believed settled long since, assailed. The revolt of our youth against parent's teachings, the easy charge of hypocrisy, the lack of value placed upon virtue, upon temperance, upon religious instruction, upon life itself. Old-fashioned notions. We are amazed at the assaults upon patriotism, upon the church, upon the integrity of treaties, upon the sanctity of contracts. Nations shed their honor like a worn garment. Americans turn from the Constitution to adventure down shady lanes of socialism, they even attack our school system. Our modern philosophers have quite eliminated God. And yet all these things were brought with a price, they made the United States great and the world a better place in which to live. This country was founded upon faith in God.

President Coolidge just before his death felt falling across his life the shadow of a new era of which he felt he knew little. We no longer sing with Pippa the work girl "God's in His heaven, all's right with the world." We have come to suspect that much is seriously wrong with the world. In the very earliest days of this republic one of our greatest American's and one of its founders warned his fellow countrymen: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." Let us absorb Thomas Jefferson's apprehension, and not only be vigilant but fight for these things which we hold to be right. William A. Holman.

At First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner of Cedar and Brewster streets, Sunday services are at 10:30 and the subject of the Lesson-Sermon tomorrow will be "God the Only Cause and Creator." The Friendly Men's Bible Class will meet at 9:30 and the church school will convene at noon. The Epworth League devotional service will be at 6:00 one half hour earlier than usual. The 7:30 evening worship will be omitted this week.

At Littlefield Memorial Church at 10:30 tomorrow, the music will include an anthem by the choir and a duet by Frank Gregory and Mrs. Grace Fish. Church School will meet at 11:45; Intermediate Christian Endeavor at 5:15, leaders, Jane Sawyer and Arlene Bartlett and evening service at 7:15. The music will include a vocal solo by Mrs. Lima Barter and violin solos by Irving Furlong of Boston. Tuesday evening prayer meeting at 7:30. The Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Nellie Higgins Wednesday evening.

Children's Day will be observed at the Congregational Church Sunday. Services will begin at 10:30 with young people assisting and children of the Sunday School providing a program. Parents desiring to have children baptized are requested to bring them to this service. Comrades of the Way will hold an out-door meeting if weather permits. All Comrades will meet at the church at 6:00 p. m. and then proceed to a place to be announced at that time. All who can be requested to bring automobiles for transportation.

Children's Day will be observed at the morning service of the First Baptist Church Sunday when beginners, primary, junior and intermediate boys and girls will have charge of the program. The church school with classes for all ages will meet at noon. The C. E. meeting will be omitted this week. At 7:30 the Baccalaureate services of the Rockland High School will be held in this church. The choir will sing, "The Lord is my strength," Rogers, and "Come unto Me," Schubert. Charles Wilson and Chester Wyllie will sing, "God will

Figures that Prove Banking Efficiency

Not many people realize how economically banks serve them.

According to figures recently published by the Post Office Department, it costs the Government an average of 14 cents for every money order issued.

Banks are nearly three times as efficient. The average cost to them for a check drawn and paid is only 5 cents.

Nothing could show more convincingly how banks serve their depositors with a minimum of waste and expense.

Capt. Zenas Lawry was supper guest Monday of Mrs. Gertrude Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wotton, Jr., were recent Bremen visitors. Mrs. Beulah Cook has been guest of her grandmother, in South Waldoboro.

Mrs. Daisy Simmons and Mrs. Albion Wotton were visitors recently at the home of Mrs. Clemer Burns of South Waldoboro.

Mrs. Nancy Rogers and daughter, Mary of Portland, are at their home here for a few days.

Several from here attended the baccalaureate services of the graduating class of Thomaston High School held last Sunday.

Much sympathy is expressed by the friends of Mrs. Dalton Wotton who was called last Saturday to Walham, Mass., by the sudden death of her sister, Mrs. Frances Mulhall of that city. It will be remembered that Mrs. Mulhall and grandson, John Mulhall, had passed several summers here with her sister, Mrs. Wotton, until failing health prevented, a few years ago. All who knew Mrs. Mulhall were endeared to her by her sunny disposition and friendly spirit. Deepest condolence is extended surviving relatives, especially to her grandson, to whom the deceased was truly devoted.

Miss Rachel Stetson is visiting her father, ar Stetson, in Thomaston and her aunt, Miss Helen Stetson.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Friou and family of Brooklyn have arrived at their summer home here. Mr. Friou has returned for a short time but will rejoin his family later for the season.

Vinal Killaran of Thomaston was guest Sunday of his niece Mrs. Carrie MacFarland.

James Murphy and Arthur MacFarland motored Monday to Bath. Mrs. Earl Coates and daughter, Belle, and son Edmond of Thomaston, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Simmons, Mrs. Alden Lawry and children, Hattie and Gladys, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Simmons at Forest Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Jameson and daughter Peggy of Waldoboro motored recently to Westport where they visited Mr. Jameson's aunt, Miss Nellie Davis who is a teacher there.

Forest Fire Rules For Maine Campers

Picture by Kenneth Fuller Lee

Follow These Simple Rules and Protect Maine Forests From Fire

The following simple rules for campers are recommended by the Maine Forestry Department:

1. Rake away all inflammable material before lighting the fire.
2. Don't toss your match away—break it in two, step on it, and be sure it is out.
3. Never build a fire against a log, tree or stump.
4. Never leave a fire burning or try to kick it out.
5. Pour plenty of water on your fire, or use plenty of dirt.
6. When you think it is out, feel it with your hands to make sure.
7. Leave the place as clean as you found it.

Mrs. James Dunn and Mrs. Collins of East Pepperell, Mass., have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. L.

Maloney. Mrs. Collins is a kinsman of Lester Lufkin of this town.

Mrs. Sarah F. Seavey is confined to her bed by illness and is attended by Dr. Hahn of Friendship.

Ell Maloney is with his brother W. G. Maloney and family for an indefinite time.

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Everingham of Kittery and Wolfboro, N. H., who had planned to visit this month with various friends in town, send regrets that they will be unable to do so because of a recent motor accident. Neither was hurt, however. They wish to be remembered to friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stiphen of Bath were recent callers at George Teague's.

Eleven Churches Represented

Churches numbering 11 represented at the 25th annual meeting of the Lincoln Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers held with the local Congregational Church at an all day meeting Tuesday, included, besides the host church those of Wiscasset, Woolwich, the First and Second Congregational Churches of Newcastell; Finnish Church, South Thomaston; Federated Church, Thomaston, Congregational Church of Rockland; Winter Street and Central Congregational Churches of Bath; and the Congregational Church of Edgemoor.

Rev. Hubert F. Leach of Thomaston was moderator, Election of officers resulted thus: Moderator, Rev. Joseph O. Purdie of the Winter St. Congregational Church of Bath; scribe, Rev. Henry W. Webb of Wiscasset; and auditor, Roy R. Marston of Wiscasset. Principal speakers were Rev. Erwin L. Shaver of Boston, secretary of the Congregational Young People's societies, who spoke in the afternoon and evening at the young people's rally; Rev. Rodney W. Roundy of Portland, superintendent; Rev. C. N. Olds of Rockland; Mrs. Erlon M. Richardson of Portland, president of the Missionary Council; Rev. Charles S. Sowder of Wiscasset, and Rev. S. Gordon Tucker of Newcastell.

Rev. Charles S. Sowder of Wiscasset was admitted to the Lincoln Association, and dismissal was made Rev. Earl A. Clifford who is at Plentywood, Mont., formerly at South Bristol.

Resolutions passed included vigorous opposition to the gambling of to-day, appreciation to the Warren church as host, and commending the committee on social action regarding inequalities in industry, racial relations and war spirit. Dinner and supper was served 50 at the dining room of the Church, Mrs. Laura Starrett, in charge of serving. Members had contributed many beautiful bouquets for decoration of the church.

An Amusing Entertainment

The play "Presenting Polly" sponsored by the Warren Women's Club and directed by Miss Marguerite Haskell, will be presented June 14, at 8.30 daylight at the Town hall.

Miss Haskell announces this cast, the leading part "Polly Rogers" taken by herself; Amos Burton, a mild looking young professor, Roger Kallioch; Mrs. Burton, a handsome matron of 40, Miss Beulah Starrett; Jeremy Prosser, a noisy news reporter, Richard Bucklin; Sue Lowell, a mischievous girl of 17, Miss Christine Starrett; Norah McGuire who "raised" Amos, Miss Ida Stevens; William McGuire, a milk man of 45, husband of Norah, S. F. Haskell; Vivian Elmwood, 21, vamp type, Miss Katherine Starrett; Robert Lake, a political aspirant, Marshall White; Cynthia, a snappy maid, Miss Beatrice Haskell; Teagle, a butler, Alfred Oxtone.

An evening of fine entertainment is promised. This royalty play is said to be the funniest given in this town for some time. Miss Haskell has always been a prime favorite in local amateur theatricals, was pupil of Adelyn Bushnell in 1933-34, and a junior this past year at Leland Powers School of the Theatre in Boston. The other parts are also exceptionally well taken.

AT GOVERNOR'S FISHING PARTY

Executives of the M. & P. Theatres Corporation are quite some fishermen as the above picture proves. It shows them with Governor Brann of Maine, during the Governor's recent fishing party. Left to right: Samuel Pinanski, Gov. Brann, Martin J. Mullin and C. J. Russell. Pinanski and Mullin are displaying a splendid catch of land-locked Moosehead Lake salmon.

BIG FIVE LEAGUE

Cement Team Making Good Start—Game At Community Park Sunday

Tuesday — Cement Company 11, Rockport 3.

The Standing	W	L	P.C.
Cement Co.	2	0	1000
Warren	1	0	1000
Rockport	1	1	500
Pirates	0	1	000
South Thomaston	0	1	000
Battery F	0	1	000

Tomorrow's games—South Thomaston vs. Pirates at Community Park at 2.30; Warren at Rockport; Battery F at Cement Plant.

The Warren-Pirate game for Wednesday was washed out.

Doug Ladd of Cementland was robbed of a sweet hit in Tuesday's game when the Rockport center-fielder went into deep field to pull down a drive tagged for a home run.

Battery F got mixed up somewhat for Thursday's game at the Keag and only one of the men showed up. South Thomaston announced that it would not forfeit this game. Good sportsmanship.

South Thomaston has consented to play the game scheduled for the Keag tomorrow at Community Park instead, so as to give Rockland a game for Sunday. The Pirate management thanks Manager Hopkins for this move.

Rockport, who hit that ball hard against the Pirates Sunday, garnered but four hits off Blin Hunt in their second game. This puts the Cement Plant away with a leap.

Dragons 10, Rockport 3

In a twilight engagement Tuesday night at Cement Field the Dragons defeated Rockport by a lopsided score. The fielding feature of the game was turned in by Crockett, Rockport center fielder, who went far back in deep center field to make a one hand catch of a ball hit by Ladd. The Dragons played steady ball throughout the game. The score:

High School Commencement The seating capacity of Watts hall was tested to the limit Wednesday evening on the occasion of the graduation of the class of 1935, Thomaston.

High School. The stage had been handsomely decorated with varicolored lilacs and tulips. The class motto "Post Proelium, Præmium" (After the battle, the reward) was displayed in the class and school colors above the stage. The talisman rose was the chosen class flower.

The boys clad in black coats and vests, with white trousers and the girls dressed in white were an attractive group. The program was well carried out, and as usual, the class will and presentation of gifts created much mirth, with some of the hits evidently striking the mark. The class prophecy was given in a novel and impressive manner. Supt. C. E. Lord presented the diplomas with brief, important statements bearing on the future interests of the High School.

The program consisted of these numbers: March, orchestra; prayer, Rev. Mr. Leach; salutatory, "Grace Moore," Elizabeth Lindstedt; class will, Elizabeth Henry; chorus, "The Heavens Resound," (Handel), "Viking Song" school chorus; first oration, "Life's Treasure Box," Amy Miller; class prophecy, Fred Bucklin, Raymond Upham; second oration, "Montpelier," Helen Vinal; class history, William Smith, Jr.; class gifts, Mary Condon, Herbert Benner; valedictory, "What High School Has Done for Us," Charles W. ## GUARDIANS OF OUR COAST

What our lightkeepers and coast guardsmen are doing to protect coastwise shipping by day and by night. The day's news from many lonely outposts along Maine's waterfront.

Cape Neddick

Dear lighthouse comrades and friends in Rockland etc.—It has been some time since I have written—not for lack of something to write, but for lack of time to do it.

To go back a bit—we had inspection last fall and Mr. Sampson told us this light would probably be discontinued this summer, so we packed things we did not need, that is books, etc. Then on March 8, he called and told us it was going this summer. So we started packing in earnest. When he and Mr. Brush came on inspection on April 23 we had all lineoleums and rugs up and packed and everything possible prepared. They told us we were here for another year at least. Joy! Joy! I guess there was. Now we are busy unpacking, but with very light hearts and happy.

Mrs. Coleman was called March 16 on the telephone and told that her father was very ill and for her to come home. Five minutes later she was called again that he had died. It was a terrible blow for her, as her dad had been in excellent health all winter and had been about more than for a number of years. She went down that night with a friend of ours and while at Bath stayed with my brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Everett Leonard. I went down Monday with Mrs. James Everett Carle and her son James. Mrs. Carle stayed with us until Wednesday when we returned home.

Mr. McIntire was a retired coast guardsman and had entered the service when the present station was at the other end of the front beach. He served nearly 30 years and was in charge at a number of important rescues when the captain was ill or off duty. He was honorably discharged from service because of disability July 29, 1919 and settled in Bath. Mr. McIntire was one of a large family born to Charles H. and Almira (Blaisdell) McIntire and went to sea when he was 14. He shipped as cabin boy and before leaving, attained the position of first mate on a vessel of which his brother, the late Capt. George McIntire was commander. During this time he made a trip to South America. He left beside his brother William several nephews and nieces, one of whom, Miss Grace M. McIntire, often took him to the Nubble in her car. He will be greatly missed by us all.

On our return to the light we called at the home of ex-keeper and Mrs. Charles L. Knight and had dinner. We found Charlie was off Court reporting. We are very glad he was able to take up his shorthand so profitably after so long an absence. After dinner, Mrs. Coleman went to see Dr. D. A. Perini of Yarmouth and found she had been suffering from a fractured ankle all winter and had to stay with Maude to have treatments. Quite an unexpected visit. While there she met ex-keeper and Mrs. Pinkham and their daughter and enjoyed her visit very much. Her foot is much better, although she has to be very careful of it.

The Government truck arrived April 29 on the point with workmen, Lester Beals and Edward Spinney, and a load of lumber and supplies. Mr. Beals took the boat (I was at the postoffice) and he and the truck driver McCarthy called on Mrs. Coleman. We were much surprised to find that he has been married this spring and wish the couple much happiness. After his call, Mr. Beals continued on to Kittery and Mr. Spinney came to work at this station. Men from the beach are assisting him. G. Ryie Blithern and Norman Chase. A new platform has been made at the oil house and a new concrete base around the tower. The slip has been nearly all rebuilt, as far as the tide will permit work on it. The scaffold has been put on the barn and new shingles will be put on soon.

Mr. Spinney's daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hughes and daughter Joyce of Calais, have been visiting Mrs. Charles Tracy of the village and passing the evening with her father, driving him around the village and roads of York in her new car. She returned May 19. Posie made a trip to the village recently and spent an hour with Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Stockbridge at the Littlefield Inn, in the village. The Stockbridges were returning to Becon after a vacation with relatives at Peaks Island and Massachusetts.

Mrs. Mabel Robinson of Portland and Bowdoinham has returned after passing a week with us. Mrs. Mary P. Ingham, Posie's aunt is here for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, and daughter June, and Percy Ruggles passed a weekend recently at the Nubble, celebrating Mrs. Miller's birthday while there.

We wish Mrs. Albert Staples many happy birthdays. It has been a long time since we saw her, but we still remember it.

Recent callers at the Nubble were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rowe and two sons of Grace. Mrs. Bertha Rogers, Miss Kittery, Miss Eunice G. Melzard, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Totman of Bath.

Portland Head

Warm weather at last, and planting flower gardens is in order.

Mrs. Sterling, Mrs. Hilt and Willard Hilt spent the afternoon in Portland recently.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Sterling and son Robert visited Evergreen cemetery last on Wednesday afternoon before Memorial Day.

Misses Elizabeth and Marion Sterling of Peaks Island were overnight guests Tuesday of last week of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Sterling.

Picnic days have arrived, with picnics at the right of us, in front of us, and at the left of us. "Variety is the spice of life" so come on with more!

Mrs. Grace Dow entertained Good Timers Club recently at her home, Stevens avenue, Portland. Two guests were present. The day was passed in sewing and making plans for summer.

R. T. Sterling Sr. was given a surprise birthday party at his home the evening of May 28. Spring flowers were used for decorations. Luncheon was served at 10 o'clock with a birthday cake lighted by candles forming an attractive centerpiece. Present were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dow, son Richard, Misses Elizabeth and Marion Sterling, Mrs. F. O. Hilt and son Willard, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling and son Robert. The party concluded at the midnight hour wishing Mr. Sterling many more such joyous occasions.

Robert Sterling Jr. spent the holiday at camp with friends.

Mrs. F. O. Hilt and son Willard were in Portland to attend Memorial Day services.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dow were callers here Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Martha Sterling, Mrs. Adora Hilt and Mrs. Grace Dow were in Portland Thursday for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer Sterling were dinner guests May 30 of Mrs. W. C. Dow of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Robinson and son Jack of Belleville, N. J., called on the Hilt family Friday last week and were guests that night of Mrs. Lucy E. Robinson of St. George. They were guests Saturday night of F. O. Hilt and family and early Sunday morning started for New Jersey.

Jack Edward Elliott, son of Keeper and Mrs. Elliott of Twin Lights Cape Elizabeth, sped away with one of Portland's charming young ladies June 5, after a wedding ceremony at the home of the bride. Good luck and best wishes to the newlyweds.

Once again death enters the family of a Lightkeeper. We extend sympathy to John E. Purington, Keeper of Nash Island Light Station and Mrs. Purington. Their daughter Mrs. George H. Farr died recently at the home of her aunt Mrs. Doughty in South Portland. Keeper Purington called at the station Monday.

Double Point Range Hello, everyone. After a long silence there is still little to write about except work.

We have been very busy hauling gravel and cutting bushes at the Light Station, where we worked five weeks cleaning up the grounds.

People are beginning to arrive to look over the property here with a view to bidding on it when it is put up for sale again which will be very soon.

It is quite busy on the Kennebec now with oil tankers, tugs, and pulp barges plying that water course.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pinson of Bath recently passed the evening at the station.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Drummond of Arrowsic when spending a few hours at the station recently, enjoyed a game of cards, lunch and a pleasant social time.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Holbrook and two children and Mrs. Jake Wheeler of Bath have been visitors here.

The two warm days last week thawed out the mosquitoes. I noticed one night in going up to the tower they lit on me with a vengeance.

Elwyn Young of South Acton, Mass. was a recent overnight guest at the station.

Our sincere good wishes are extended all Lighthouse and Coast Guard brothers as we sign off for the present.

Perkins Island

Greetings to all along the coast. We are nearly settled at our new station and like it very much. Quite a difference is noticed—trees, berries of all kinds, and best of all we are 24 1/2 miles nearer land. A nice garden has been planted and we also have some chickens.

It is very interesting to watch the large barges and tankers go by the kitchen window. We have seen more in a week here than we ever did in six years at the Rock.

We can get our mail almost every day. Another treat to us is a chance to dig our own clams anytime we wish. The folks at Parker Head are very friendly—like one big family.

Keeper and Mrs. Powers recently visited in Rockland and Manset enjoying their 1935 Dodge business coupe. While in Bath on a shopping tour they had the pleasure of meeting the keepers of Seguin and Squirrel Point.

The weather has been fine here lately and we took advantage of it by painting the outside of the tower.

We hope Alfred Teel is enjoying the motor boat he bought from us; and hello, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Teel. We would be pleased to have you make us another visit soon.

Kind regards to all comrades of the sea coast.

WHITE HEAD

The presence of two moose on the island is causing considerable excitement here.

Mrs. J. K. Lowe had as guests over the holiday and weekend at Spruce Lodge, a party of four from Massachusetts.

Mrs. Leland Beal is visiting at Spruce Head.

Wilson Carter of the Coast Guard has returned from 24-hour liberty passed at his home in Port Clyde.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waugh of Jonesport were last weekend guests of Keeper and Mrs. A. J. Beal at the Light. Mr. Waugh is in the Customs Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Faulkingham returned Thursday from a motor trip to Jonesport.

Mrs. Ruth Randall of Spruce Head visited Miss Eleanor Beal at the Light last Saturday and Sunday.

G. Lester Alley of the Light is driving a new car. The Alleys hope to spend Father's Day in Jonesport.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beal and Miss Eleanor Beal attended Tuesday afternoon the Shirley Temple picture "Our Little Girl," in Rockland.

LONG COVE

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and children Ronald and Catherine of Boston spent last weekend at their home here.

Mrs. William Lehtinen and Mrs. Jack Mikonen are visiting in Maynard, Mass.

Several from here attended the dance Saturday night at Clark Island. School closed Friday with a picnic at Emeline's Point.

Mrs. Alna Eglund and Mrs. Sainio Auto were recent guests of Mrs. William Erickson.

Mrs. Edwin Stein and Mrs. Omar Conway were visitors Thursday at the home of Mrs. Madeline Hopkins in Thomaston.

Mrs. Edwin Stein and children Ellen and Raymond, passed Memorial Day at Oak Hill with Mr. Stein. A picnic and fishing trip was enjoyed at Swan Lake. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson, daughter Eleanor, Mary Condon, Katherine Gilchrist and William Harjula of Thomaston.

Mrs. Hugh Campbell of Willardham has a sprained ankle.

The Women's Guild held a social at Smith hall Wednesday evening with a good attendance. Beano and other games were played, cocoa, sandwiches and cake served, and mandolin and guitar selections given by the Conway twins. The quilt was awarded to Mrs. Maud Kimball.

Probate Notices

AN ELUSIVE FLOWER

That Shakespeare Knew and Rockland Experts In Flowers Identified

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—Not all flower lovers are gardeners; not all poets are gardeners; but all true poets are lovers of flowers. Some of them even dabble in gardens. Notice how often the poet uses the names of flowers in his verse.

On a recent May afternoon a local flower lover—gardener but no poet—chanced upon an exquisite wild flower quite unknown to her. Search for its identity was made in a number of books that yielded no satisfaction. Several amateur experts on the subject were next consulted, only vaguely to respond with "I think it might be;" or "I feel very sure" etc. Then a real authority was appealed to, who called in another equally gifted consultant—Carl Duff, the one, and Carl Sonntag the other—who with their accustomed thoroughness searched the matter down to its very roots; and these were their conclusions:

The flower in question, locally unknown and mysterious, is Meadow Bitter Cress (or cross) bearing also another name, Ladies Smock, and yet another, Cuckoo Flower (C. pratensis). It is an immigrant from Europe and Asia, is common in England, and now is naturalized north of New Jersey, from coast to coast, where it lifts its delicate purplish pink-white blossoms that stand well out from the stem in slender pedicels, in loose clusters, above watery low-lying ground in April and May. It is said of this flower that more bees, flies, butterflies and other insects visit it than perhaps any other crucifer found; in England they are a silver-white, tinged only on the pink.

In Shakespeare's "Love's Labors Lost" you will find reference to this dainty gift of the out-of-doors:

When daisies pied and violets blue,
And lady-smocks all silver white,
And cuckoo-birds of yellow hue,
Do paint the meadows with delight.

Chapin Class will have an outing Tuesday evening at the Jefferson Lake cottage of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Blodgett. The husbands are invited. Take basket lunch; coffee will be served by Mrs. Blodgett. Those wishing transportation are asked to communicate with either Mrs. Ella S. Bird or Miss Harriet Parmalee. This will be the annual meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Jones, Ocean street, return to Avon, Mass., today.

Harold Vinal, well-known New York poet, is at his summer home at Lane's Point, Vinalhaven.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Barter who have been spending a month's vacation in Rockland and vicinity are returning to Hartford Monday. Mr. Barter returns to his work with the Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Company following the strike settlement. The strike which was in progress for several weeks was marked by several acts of violence, among them the bombing of the West Hartford home of Samuel M. Stone, president of the Colt plant. This was believed to be a part of a plot to blow up parts of the munitions factory, crippling its operation. Several arrests were made.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER

Serving At the Same Time As Worthy Matron Of the Order Of Eastern Star

Mrs. Nellie V. Crooker of Washington

Miss Frances A. Crooker of Waldoboro

The recent reception of the Grand Chapter of Eastern Star, held at Kora Temple, Lewiston, with Eastern Star members present from all over Maine, besides grand officers from Massachusetts and New Hampshire, with one member of the general grand chapter, saw some 2000 persons gathered for the reception and ball, marking the largest social gathering of the sessions, and gave some indication of the general prosperity of this famous organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Plourde have returned from a week's trip through Canada by the way of Van Buren where they stopped for a short visit with Mr. Plourde's parents.

Miss Gwendolyn MacDonald is home from Wheaton (Ill.) College for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Blackington and daughters, Misses Clemmie and Gertrude, went to Orono Friday for commencement, the other daughter, Miss Thelma, being a member of the graduating class and having the distinction of being class poet.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Conley left Friday for Cape's Moosehead, for fishing.

A surprise party was tendered Mrs. Jessie Wall Tuesday night to celebrate her birthday, those present being Mrs. Ella Hyland, Mrs. Emma Carver, Mrs. Bernice Jackson, Mrs. Anne Alden, Mrs. Laura Ranlett, Mrs. Florence Knowlton, Mrs. Adah Roberts and Mrs. Emma Dick. The evening was spent socially, and refreshments were served, a birthday cake of festive mien being featured. A gift was presented to Mrs. Wall.

A striking note in the connection, which touches in particular this eastern part of the state, was the presence of two officials, a mother and daughter, the only instance of a mother and daughter in Maine, representing Knox and Lincoln Counties, holding at the same time the office of Worthy Matron of the Order of Eastern Star. These were Mrs. Nellie V. Crooker, matron of Fond-du-lac chapter of Washington, and Miss Frances A. Crooker, matron of Wilmuna Chapter of Waldoboro.

Miss Flora Colson has returned from Boston where she attended the senior M.I.T. ball at The Statler, as guest of Alfred Greenlaw. Yesterday Miss Colson and her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Hahn, motored to Oak Grove Seminary for commencement, as guests of Miss Mona Jones of Waldoboro, a member of the graduating class.

Miss Helen Kennison of South Portland is spending the weekend at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Brooks.

Mrs. Benjamin Miller of Rankin street has returned after spending two weeks in Boston visiting relatives. She attended the graduation of her daughter Constance from the Lesley School. Accompanying Mrs. Miller on her return were Constance Miller who plans to spend the summer in Rockland and Mrs. Harry Bradbury of Roxbury, Mass., formerly a resident of Rockland. Saturday Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Bradbury and Constance Miller attended Commencement exercises at University of Maine. Orrin Bradbury, son of Mrs. Bradbury, is a member of the graduating class. Constance Miller attended the Alumni dance and commencement ball.

Universalist Mission Circle will meet Wednesday at Crescent Beach with Mrs. George L. St. Clair. Basket lunch, augmented by coffee by the hostess, will be at 12.30. This will be the annual and final meeting of the season. Remaining dues should be paid at this time and also the mite boxes turned in. The topic for devotional exercises and roll call will be "Help." Mrs. John Smith Lowe will be soloist, and the program will feature a missionary dramatization written by Mrs. E. F. Glover. Those having spare seats in their cars or those wishing transportation are asked to notify Miss Ellen Cochran or Mrs. A. P. Haines.

CLARK ISLAND

The Sea Breeze 4-H Club met May 31 at the home of its leader, Mrs. Mary Baum. Club Agent Miss Clark and Miss Doris Coltart were present. Miss Clark gave a demonstration showing the use of orange crates for a dressing table, coverings to be of various materials according to taste. Darning stockings was also accorded a demonstration.

School closed June 7 for the summer vacation.

REVOLUTIONARY PENSIONERS OF KNOX COUNTY, MAINE

By Edward Kallach Gould, State Historian of Maine

Author of "Major-General Hiram G. Berry," "British and Tory Marauders on the Penobscot," "Storming the Heights, Maine's Embattled Farmers at Castine in the Revolution," "Revolutionary Soldiers and Sailors of Knox County, Maine, and Their Descendants" (Ms.), "Colonel Mason Wheaton, Revolutionary Officer and Captain of Industry."

FOREWORD

These papers contain a rich store not only of personal, but of war history; detached statements and broken fragments, to be sure, but none the less interesting and real. They tell us in the very words of the actors in that war of Concord, Lexington, and Bunker Hill; of the siege of Boston, of Ticonderoga and Crown Point, of Monmouth, White Plains, of Trenton and Valley Forge; of the battles of Saratoga and Yorktown and the surrenders of Burgoyne and Cornwallis; of the gallant, but ill-starred attacks on Quebec, and the sufferings of the retreat from the frozen north. In justice to my associates in the Sons of the American Revolution, I feel that they should get the benefit of their generous financial outlay by having at least the sketches of the Revolutionary Pensioners published, and they are offered herewith.

(Seventh Installment)

James Blackington

James Blackington of Thomaston was a brother to John, also a Revolutionary soldier and was born in 1766, married Elizabeth Watson, published, Feb. 19, 1799, and died Oct. 25, 1835, aged 69 years. He was a pensioner, also drew state bounty from Maine. He states in his declaration for pension, that he enlisted as a private April, 1780, in Capt. Jeremiah Miller's Co., 1st Massachusetts Infantry commanded by Col. Joseph Vose, in the brigade of Brigadier Gen. Glover where he continued to serve until Dec. 1783, when he received honorable discharge at West Point, New York, at the hand of Major Gen. Henry Knox. His name appears on the muster roll for July, 1781, dated Phillipsburg, enlisted for three years on April 21, 1781, reported with command at West Point, Aug., 1781.

At the time of his enlistment he was an inhabitant of Rehoboth, Mass., but after the war he moved to Thomaston, Me., probably in 1795, where he continued to reside for 40 years prior to his death. He resided next to P. Tilson on the road running eastward from Mill river in Thomaston. This section of the town was then a more bog, through which this road was made of logs laid crosswise and was very rough and miry. A dense spruce thicket extended the whole distance, and beyond, with slight interruptions, to what was then called the Ulmer neighborhood, and was the usual resort for the spruce poles used in the repair of roads.

In the schedule of his property submitted with his declaration of pension, April 4, 1818, he mentions one cow, one swine, working tools, a hoe and shovel; furniture, six old chairs, two birch tables, two old trunks and sundry cooking utensils worth $5.

July 12, 1820 he states to the Pension bureau that his family consists of his wife, Betty, age 46 years; and his children, Caroline, age 19 years; Thomas Jefferson, age 16 years; James Madison, age 14 years; Barbary age 12 years; Angelina age 10 years; Rebecca age 8 years; Benjamin Franklin, age 4 years and Abby age 2 years.

After his decease, his widow, Elizabeth applied for and received a pension. She gives her age in 1836 as 57.

Blackington is buried in the Thomaston cemetery, and the marble headstone that marks his grave, is carved with an urn and weeping willow at the top. Under his name is the following inscription: "He was a soldier of the Revolution, an affectionate husband, a kind father and an honest man." His grave also has a Revolutionary grave marker (in 1930).

Willing Blake

Willing Blake of Warren, Me., first enlisted at Wrentham, Mass., in Capt. Samuel Fisher's Company, Major Seth Bullard's 4th Suffolk Co. Regiment Massachusetts troops and marched to Rhode Island July 28, 1780, on an alarm, and was discharged Aug. 7, 1780. He again enlisted at Wrentham, Mass., April 20 (also given April 5 and March 15), 1781, for three years in Capt. Benjamin Heywood's Company. Lieut. Col. Calvin Smith's 6th Massachusetts Regiment, and is reported on command at New Windsor on a muster roll for May, 1781, dated at West Point. Later on in a muster roll dated at Peekskill, Aug. 1781, he is reported "on duty at the Lines," and also on muster rolls dated "Huts, New Boston," in December 1781, and January 1782. He was promoted to corporal March 18, 1782, in Capt. Heywood's 4th Co., Col. Benj. Tupper's 6th Massachusetts Regiment and Jan. 30, 1783, he was granted a furlough of 39 days from which he returned March 7, 1783, and was promoted to sergeant June 11, 1783. On the descriptive list of men in Captain Heywood's Co., 6th Mass Regt., his age is given as 20 years; stature 5 feet 10 inches; complexion, dark; hair dark; occupation, yeoman; birthplace, Wrentham; enlisted March 15, 1781, for three years. He was honorably discharged on North River New York, Dec. 23, 1783 by Major Gen.

Henry Knox this discharge being preserved in the Pension Bureau at Washington. So state the official records of his service as given in the Massachusetts archives.

On April 3, 1818, Willing Blake makes a declaration for pension wherein his service as therein stated by him varies somewhat from the official record. He presumably made the statement from memory 35 years after his discharge from the army. He states he enlisted at Wrentham, Mass., in Captain Howard's (Heywood's) Company Col. Shepard's Regiment Massachusetts line, in March, 1780 and was afterwards transferred to Capt. Bailey's Company in Col Sprout's Regiment, Massachusetts line. He marched to West Point, New York, where he joined Captain Howard's (Heywood's) company after his enlistment. He served as a soldier about four months and was then promoted to corporal, and in a few days was advanced to the rank of orderly sergeant, in which capacity he served until discharged Dec. 23, 1783, completing a term of three years.

He was granted a pension also an allotment of land by the State of Maine for his Revolutionary services.

Willing Blake was born in Boston in 1762, married Mary Lindley of Waltham, Mass., and came to what is now North Warren, in 1794. After residing a year at J. P. Davis farm, he purchased in connection with him the Bosworth farm, west of Seven Tree pond, to which they removed. Blake subsequently sold his interest in this farm to Davis and bought of A. Lawrence the farm first settled by William Dunham, and also a part of the farm of T. Hills. The soil of his purchase was not fertile, but it is said that the industry and skill of Blake converted the farm into one of the best in Warren.

Eaton in his Annals of Warren, Maine is authority for the statement that in the war of 1812, when the British took possession of Castine, Sept. 17, 1814, and the militia was concentrated at Camden, which expected an attack from several ships of war, a company of volunteers organized in Warren from those who were by law exempt from military duty, to whom had been committed that town's quota of the arms furnished by the government, mounted their horses and rode to Camden, reporting to the commanding officer for duty. Some of them had seen service in the army of the Revolution others had held commissions in the militia, while others had no experience in military training.

Willing Blake was chosen captain of this volunteer company, A. Davis, Lieut., and U. Buckland, Jr., Ensign, two of whom had been soldiers of the Revolution, and all, captains in the militia. John Miller, orderly sergeant and most of the subordinate officers, had also held commissions. During the night an alarm was given that the enemy were preparing to land. The different companies were paraded, loaded their muskets and stood prepared for action. The commanding officer held a consultation with his subordinates, and for a time all were in breathless expectation of an immediate skirmish.

It proved a false alarm, however, and the troops returned to their repose. They were reviewed the next day by Major Gen. William King afterwards the first governor of Maine, and as the hostile fleet got under way and put to sea, the Warren companies and others returned home and were discharged. Rations were furnished on this excursion by the selectmen of Warren, and the expense incurred, as well as the soldiers wages with the exception of Captain Blake's company of volunteers, was afterwards paid by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Blake also served as captain of the West Warren company of militia about 1798. He died June 19, 1844 at the age of 82 years, and is buried in the Blake cemetery west of Seven Tree pond on the west side of the highway from Warren to Union, in North Warren. A Revolutionary bronze marker was at his grave (in 1930).

KNOX COUNTY FARM CENSUS

Number and Value Shows Alarming Decrease According To New Figures

There were 1510 farms containing 118,819 acres valued at $2,725,192 in Knox County, Maine, according to a preliminary tabulation of returns of the Census of Agriculture which began Jan. 2, 1935, released today by Director William L. Austin, Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

There were reported at the Census of April 1, 1930, 1845 farms containing 144,158 acres valued at $5,877,130. The average size of farms was 78.7 acres in 1935 as compared with 78.1 acres in 1930. The average value of land and buildings per farm was $1805 in 1935 and $3185 in 1930.

The acreage from which crops were harvested was 35,980 in 1934 and 34,206 in 1929. The acreage and quantity of selected crops harvested in 1934 were: All hay and sorghums for forage, 29,072 acres and 21,748 tons; Irish potatoes, 416 acres and 66,057 bushels; and oats threshed, 196 acres and 6412 bushels.

These figures for 1935 are for selected items only and are subject to correction. Final figures by counties are to be presented in a State bulletin for Maine.

AT PARK THEATRE MONDAY-TUESDAY

The overworked superlatives seem futile when one comes to estimating the merits of "Clive of India," first million dollar production for 20th Century Pictures, which brings the personable and popular Ronald Colman to Park Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

The true story of Robert Clive, who conquered an empire at 26—who rose, by his own faith and genius and daring, from a poor clerk in the East India Company to become England's greatest hero, fits Colman like the proverbial glove, and he takes full advantage of every opportunity to be more dashing, more spirited and more effective than ever—in a word, to give the greatest performance of his career.

Loireta Young, too, evidences new powers and gives an unforgettable portrayal of the lovely English girl to whom Clive wrote proposing marriage after seeing her picture in her brother's locket—the girl who arrived in India to accept him, only to find her poor clerk magically risen to heroic heights through having boldly taken charge of the army and quelled a rebellion—adv.

DON'T BREAK CHAIN

Leading the Simple Life Didn't Save
A Jay See From the Pests

Editor of The Courier-Gazette—
Congratulate me! From a position where I had no idea where my next roast turkey dinner was coming from I am now raised to heights previously undreamed of and I am not dreaming. I am now assured of an income which will put me soon in the class with Henry Ford, Andy Mellon (may I this designate Andrew?) and others with whom I probably shall soon be hobnobbing. I have been singled out of this vast multitude of citizens of our glorious republic to handle untold wealth, even more than I expected from that philanthropic marvel, Dr. Townsend.

Listen! I have received three letters and all I have to do is copy each of them five times and send them to anyone who can spare a dime, spend three dimes myself, and I can even hand these letters out and save postage. And within a very short time, probably not over a week from now, I shall be measuring up dimes in a 12-quart milk pail. And I shall not stop there, for as soon as it gets noised around that I am getting this wealth, others will write me, and incidentally I will multiply this business.

There is just one man I shall leave off my list and that is a certain military gentleman from Hope who, in times past, has written some very offensive articles regarding my prowess as a hunter and marksman. I will not give his name, but he claims to be an army officer of some kind, or perhaps he may at some time have lived in Kentucky and by hook or crook, probably the latter, gained his title of "Colonel."

Well, enough of him. I shall soon be in a class so far above him that he will look no bigger than the trout he used to catch, and believe me, honest fishermen used that kind for bait to catch minnows.

I am waiting patiently for the first

AT THE STRAND SUNDAY

A liberal sample of the kind of men Mae West has selected for her new film, "Goin' to Town"

"Goin' to Town", comes for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Mae West's adventures in "Goin' to Town," which presents her in modern clothes, and up-to-date settings, start way back in the cattle country when she inherits the money of a cattle baron, and decides to go after a handsome young Englishman on whom she had an eye for some time. The pursuit of the Englishman, Paul Cavanagh, leads her to Buenos Aires where the exciting and humorous horse-racing sequences takes place. Then they go back to the States and Southampton, the stronghold of society. Mae West marries a handsome young society man to attain position. But the efforts of fortune hunters and the jealousy of her rivals make things hot for her until Cavanagh returns to the scent to tell her that he had loved her all the time.

The grade for conduct on Helen's report card on month was "B" with the word "whispering" after it. The next month she received an "A."

Her mother explained that "A" was higher than "B" and meant improvement. That evening when Helen's father came home she ran to him and exclaimed: "O daddy! I've got my report card today and I've improved in my whispering!"—Indianapolis News

A MAN'S WORTH

Summer Resident of Camden
Able To Draw Down
$1000 a Day

Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Business Machines Company, received the highest salary of any corporation so far reporting to the SEC. He was paid last year $365,000, or $1000 a day for every day in the year, including Sundays and holidays.

To those who condemn the policy of paying very high salaries, this $1000 a day to Mr. Watson may look like a fair target. But without holding any brief for these princely salaries in general, it may be said here that this man Watson is regarded in big business circle as one of the ablest business executives in the country.

When the big crash came in 1929, and most of the business organizations began laying off employees right and left, Mr. Watson hired additional men. He adhered to this policy of driving ahead even in the darkest days of 1931 and 1932. As a result, his company did more business in each year of the depression than it did in 1928 or 1929. Furthermore, although profits were apparently reduced somewhat when the NRA came in, the company has paid substantial dividends—more than in 1929—all through the depression, and after allowing for stock dividends, the stock is now selling not far from its 1929 high price.

It is pretty hard to say just what such a man is worth. It would seem, however, that he might be entitled to as high a salary as some of our movie stars or radio comedians. The stockholders of the company probably are not begrudging him all he is paid.

—The Boston Post.

The summer home of Mr. Watson is at Melvin Heights, Camden.
